OVERVIEW

Lisette Martinez is a Shareholder in the Real Estate Department. She represents developers in all areas of transactional real estate including the acquisition, financing, construction, rehabilitation and development of multifamily developments focusing particularly on high-quality affordable housing. Her practice includes assisting clients in complex financing matters involving low-income tax credits, tax-exempt bonds, government loan programs, and loan programs facilitated through the U.S. Department of Housing & Urban Development. She is also experienced in representing institutional lenders in complex matters involving restructuring of assets which include project-based construction loans, term loans, and secured credit facilities. She received her J.D. from New York University School of Law, where she was Editor-in-Chief of the Review of Law and Social Change, and her B.A. from the University of California, Los Angeles.

Prior to joining the firm, Lisette was an associate at a large law firm in New York City.
